Jeff is the senior partner in the firm's Litigation group. He has focused his practice in civil litigation for over 28 years, and has acquired extensive experience representing municipalities, individuals and corporations in a broad range of legal matters at various Court levels and before a number of tribunals.

Jeff's experience includes representing clients before the Ontario Court of Justice (in such matters as zoning and property standards by-law prosecutions), the Ontario Superior Court of Justice (in such matters as property standards applications, real estate claims, fire loss claims, long-term disability claims, employment matters, personal injury claims, and professional malpractice claims), and before the Divisional Court (in such matters as Charter and human rights proceedings and insurance matters). Jeff has also appeared for clients before such tribunals as the Local Planning Appeal Tribunal (LPAT) (formerly the Ontario Municipal Board) and the Ontario Labour Relations Board (ON LRB).

Some of the reported cases that demonstrate the scope and breadth of Jeff's experience representing clients before the Court and various tribunals are set out below.
