

Emily Whetung MacInnes

■ Associate

T: 705.742.1674 ext. 258

E: ewhetung@llf.ca

LLF.ca

Emily is a descendant of the Whetung name as far back as its origins, and now practices law in the community where she was raised.

Emily's practice is focused primarily in the area of residential real estate, where she assists clients with purchases, sales, and mortgage financing matters.

In addition, Emily maintains a growing practice in Indigenous/Aboriginal law. Emily focused on Indigenous/Aboriginal law during her law school education and her articling year, and has first-hand knowledge of the many issues associated with this developing area of the law.

Practice Areas

- Residential Real Estate Law
- Indigenous/Aboriginal Law

Work Experience

- Associate, LLF Lawyers LLP (2011 - present)
- Articling Student at Nahwegahbow, Corbiere, Rama First Nation (2010 - 2011)
- Aboriginal Intensive Program (Student Educational Placement), Chippewa's of Rama First Nation (2010) – Osgoode Aboriginal Intensive Program

Bar Admission

- Ontario (2011)

Education

- Juris Doctor, Osgoode Hall Law School (2010)
- Bachelor of Arts (Hons), Trent University (2007)

Professional Associations and Designations

- Law Society of Upper Canada
- Peterborough Law Association

Community Involvement

- Big Brothers Big Sisters of Peterborough – Board Member
- Peterborough Family Resources – Chair
- Peterborough Community Legal Centre – Former Volunteer

LAWYERS

